

Department of Insurance and Risk Management,

Fudan University, School of Economics

Tenure Track Position

The Fudan University is a leading research-focused institution. The University follows the North American system of curriculum and academic personnel. Fudan consists of 28 schools and departments, with seventy undergraduate disciplines. The University confers bachelor's degrees in seventy academic disciplines, and master's degrees in two hundred and twenty nine disciplines (with fifty-one of them established by the University itself), and doctoral degrees in twenty-four Level I and one hundred and fifty-four Level II academic disciplines (with thirty of them established by the University itself). There are also twenty-nine research stations that offer postdoctoral fellowships.

The Fudan School of Economics consistently ranks among the top economics schools in Asia. The Department of Insurance and Risk Management, Fudan School of Economics, invites applications from Insurance / Finance / Risk Management, or a related discipline scholars for tenure-track and tenured positions (all ranks). Candidates should hold a Ph.D. or be near completion. Selection for full / associate ranks will be based on an established publication record and proven teaching experience. Selection for the assistant rank will be based on potential for publications in leading journals and for effective teaching.

We offer a conducive research environment with generous funding support, as well as competitive remuneration and other benefits.

Please send your application package, including a cover letter, current CV, three letters of recommendation and recent publications or working papers to:

Dongmei Chen
Department of Insurance
School of Economics
Fudan University
P.O. Box 200433
Shanghai, P.R. China

Applications can be submitted electronically to dmchen@fudan.edu.cn

We encourage early submission of applications.