

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY
FOX SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
Philadelphia, PA

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor Position in Risk Management and Insurance
Department of Risk, Insurance and Healthcare Management

JOB QUALIFICATIONS:

The Fox School of Business and Management at Temple University seeks a research scholar at the Assistant, Associate or Full Professor level in the field of Risk and Insurance. Qualified candidates are required to hold a Ph.D. in Insurance, Economics or Finance. It is desirable for candidates to have an established record of high quality research with publications in the highest quality, top tier journals in risk and insurance. Evidence of excellence in teaching and a strong willingness to work closely with students are also required. Candidates should have an interest in teaching financial risk management, property liability insurance and/or employee benefits. Salary is highly competitive and commensurate with qualifications. The position is available starting September 2012, pending final budgetary approval.

Applications should include (a) cover letter, (b) full curriculum vitae, (c) a brief statement of current and future research interests, (d) evidence of excellence in teaching (e.g., teaching evaluations, letters), and (e) the names and contact information for three references.

Kindly submit items electronically to:

Dr. R. B. Drennan, Jr.
Associate Professor and Chairman
Department of Risk, Insurance and Healthcare Management
Temple University
628 Alter Hall
Philadelphia, PA 19122
rdrennan@temple.edu

The Department of Risk, Insurance, and Healthcare Management has 14 full-time, tenure-track faculty members and 5 full-time, non-tenure-track faculty. Recent publications for our faculty include acceptances in all top tier academic risk and insurance journals.

The Department has undergraduate, MBA, MS and Ph.D. programs in risk management and insurance, actuarial science and healthcare management. Our undergraduate program in RMI has over 400 undergraduate majors and our undergraduate program in actuarial science has over 200 majors. In 2010, the Society of Actuaries named Temple as a Center for Actuarial Excellence.

Representatives from Temple University will be attending the 2011 ARIA meeting.

Temple University of the Pennsylvania Commonwealth System of Higher Education serves 39,000 students, and is one of the three major state-related, research universities in Pennsylvania. Established in 1918, and with nearly 6,500 students and over 170 full time faculty, the Fox School of Business is one of the largest most comprehensive business schools in the region and the nation, offering Bachelor, Masters, Executive Masters, and PhD programs in traditional and specialized areas at urban and suburban campuses in the Philadelphia region and worldwide.

Financial Times recently ranked the Fox Executive MBA Program in the top 15 in the nation. Forbes ranked the MBA program in the top 75 in the world. US News and World Reports ranked the Full-Time MBA in the top 60 in the nation, and the Risk Management and Insurance Undergraduate Program is ranked in the top 10 in the nation.

Philadelphia is the fifth largest city in the United States, and is a major cultural center with a high concentration of dining and other attractions, as well as easy international access. It is close to New York and Washington D.C. Housing and living costs in Philadelphia are among the lowest of major US cities. Philadelphia also has a significant presence of IT, financial services, pharmaceutical, and other industries providing opportunities for interaction with businesses and research.

Temple University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and specifically invites applications from women and minorities. Additional information is available from the university, college and department websites at: www.temple.edu.