Discussion of Insured Loss Inflation: How Natural Catastrophes Affect Reconstruction Labor Wages

Kathleen McCullough and Lorilee Medders
The William T. Hold / The National Alliance Program in Risk Management
Florida State University

American Risk and Insurance Association 2013
Contribution

• Characterizes Demand Surge with respect to several key factors including the economy, other catastrophes and number of contractors

• Broader dataset of events
Questions

• Defining the sample and variables

• Additional factors to consider

• Further discussion