

Hagen Family Foundation Travel Award

Applications are now being accepted for the 2024 Hagen Family Foundation Travel Award. An award of up to $1,500 will be granted to a doctoral student or faculty member who attends and presents a paper at the 2024 ARIA Annual Meeting in Denver, Co. from August 4-7, 2024. The objective of the award is “to extend the opportunity to attend the ARIA Annual Meeting to those who would not otherwise attend, yet would benefit from the interaction with their peers.”

To be eligible for the award, an applicant must:

- be a Ph.D. student or faculty member from a U.S. or foreign university
- have a research paper accepted for presentation at the 2024 ARIA Annual Meeting
- explain their funding situation for the purpose of attending the 2024 ARIA Annual Meeting

Applications can be submitted now, prior to applicants learning about their paper's acceptance status. The deadline for submission is April 15, 2024. Priority will be given to applicants who lack funding from their institution for the purpose of attending the ARIA Annual Meeting in Denver, CO. If more than one paper is eligible for consideration, the selection decision will be based on the academic merits of the paper. Decisions will be communicated via email no later than May 31, 2024, possibly earlier.

To apply for the award, applicants must submit a completed application form, a curriculum vita and their paper that is being reviewed for the 2024 ARIA Annual Meeting. Application materials should be sent to via email to Brad Karl (bkarl@fsu.edu) with the subject “Hagen Travel Award Application.”

The Hagen Family Foundation (THFF) is a private family foundation established in 1999 that provides financial grants to not-for-profit organizations. THFF favors creative and innovative proposals in the areas of the arts, education, environment, religion, and social services.
