

Lorilee Medders, PhD

Lorilee (Lori) Medders serves as the Joseph F Freeman Distinguished Professor of Insurance at Appalachian State University in Boone, North Carolina. She taught previously at Georgia Southern University, Georgia State University and Florida State University.

In addition to teaching in risk and insurance, Lori directs the Honors Program for the Walker College of Business. She is an active member of both the Southern Risk and Insurance Association and the American Risk and Insurance Association, serving as Chair of ARIA's RITS Committee. She is former statistics expert member and chair of the Florida Commission on Hurricane Loss Projection Methodology.

Lori has advised and/or consulted for several organizations, including the American Association for Water Distribution and Management and multiple businesses in the agribusiness, energy and water sectors. She holds a BSCBA (The University of Alabama), MSRMI (Georgia State University), and PhD (Georgia State University).